*A continuous day's overdraft fee will be charged for each business day you are overdrawn after five business days.

An account is considered inactive when the balance is less than $100 and:

- There is no customer-generated activity for a period of 90 days on checking accounts.
- There is no customer-generated activity for a period of 3 years on a savings or money market account.

An item is defined as any debit that causes or increases an overdraft and includes transactions completed at Point of Sale (POS), Automated Teller Machines (ATM), Automated Clearing House (ACH), as well as checks, in-person withdrawals, and pre-authorized transactions. Items are paid from the highest dollar amount to the lowest dollar amount.

*This charge applies if the balance in the account is insufficient to cover the requested stop payment amount.
